

Awarding Body: City & Guilds

Aimed at

This qualification is suitable for anyone who is aiming to become an electrician working on domestic, industrial, or commercial installations, regardless of previous experience and knowledge.

The theory content of this qualification will be delivered online, and the practical elements at the Trydan Training centre on selected weekends.

Course content and performance units

This course offers an alternative route to becoming a qualified electrician without the need to be an apprentice. This diploma gives you the same underpinning knowledge as the apprenticeship route except you do not need to have a job in the industry before you start.

After completing the level 2 course, it is recommended you try to obtain work as an electricians mate to further your experience and understanding. You can then enrol on to the level 3 2365 diploma and progress toward becoming a fully qualified electrician.

Assessment

You will be assessed throughout the course by online exams, written assignments and practical assessments
